The Palmetto hotel property on South Beach street, owned by C. B.
Chamberlain, was yesterday sold to
B. H. Gruber and others, who are planning to build a new hotel on the site. The property is one of the best in the city and the new hotel will be one of the largest in the state.

Mr. Chamberlain, who has been managing the property for some time,
has been offered a large sum of money for the property. He has accepted the offer and the property
has been sold to the new owners.
The new hotel will be built on the site of the old Palmetto hotel and will be one of the largest in the city.

BIG, NEW HOTEL TO BE BUILT ON SITE OF PALMETTO HOUSE ON SOUTH BEACH STREET

C. O. CHAMBERLAIN DISPOSES OF SITE AND BUILDING TO
H. M. GARDINER AND OTHERS

HOTEL SITE IS ONE OF BEST IN THE CITY AND NEW BUILDING
WILL BE THE LARGEST HOTEL
HERE.

The Palmetto hotel property on South Beach street, owned by C. O.
Chamberlain, was yesterday sold to
H. Marshall Gardiner, the transfer constituting one of the largest,
if not the largest, individual sale
ever negotiated here. The transaction was made direct between the parties.

Mr. Gardiner, with the assistance of northern capitalists, proposes to replace the present hotel with a large modern hotel building, costing
not less than half a million dollars
and probably far exceeding that figure.

The property is well adapted for the erection of a structure of this character as it has a frontage of nearly 500 feet and extends to Palmetto avenue with a greater frontage on that street and lies between Loomis avenue on the north and a private street on the south, running from Beach street to Palmetto avenue.

Mr. Gardiner has been looking for a location for hotel purposes and recently returned from a trip down
the coast as far as Miami with this object in view and considers the location selected as not only the best in Daytona, but the best in the whole state.

While Daytona has a number of excellent hotels, there is a growing demand for a hotel such as intended for this property, with accommodation for 500 or 600 people and the site chosen is really ideal with its beautiful outlook upon the Halifax
river and its convenient accessibility from all sides. Possession is to be given next November.

Mr. Chamberlain purchased the Palmetto hotel about 15 years ago
and has made the house very popular under his management. For some time, however, he has desired to be relieved from the care and responsibility of business during the winter months and Mr. Gardiner's proposition furnishes the desired opportunity. Mr. Chamberlain's many friends in this city and vicinity will be glad to know, however, that the sale of the property does not sever
his connection with Daytona, as he will continue to spend the winters here. Mr. Chamberlain conducts in the summer the Adirondack Inn, Sacandaga Park, N. Y., one of the most beautiful and best known resorts in the north.

Mrs. W. J. Bethel, who has been seriously ill for several days at her home, 177 North Ridgewood avenue,
was removed to Dr. Bohannon's hospital this afternoon.

TURKEY NOW ANXIOUS TO HAVE PEACE

ASKS POWERS TO OPEN WAY FOR ANOTHER CONFERENCE

REALIZES THAT LARGER DE-MANDS WILL BE MADE THAN
AT LONDON, BUT WILL TAKE
WHAT IT GETS.

PARIS, March 1 — Turkish Ambassador Rifet Pasha impressed upon the foreign office today that Turkey is anxious to conclude peace
with the Balkans without further delay. He expressed the hope that the European powers will open the way for a renewal of peace negotiations soon.

"Turkey recognizes the futility
of carrying on the war longer," said
the ambassador, "and wishes to conclude peace on the best terms possible. We realize that larger demands will be made now than at the conference in London."

WILSON IS NO LONGER
NEW JERSEY GOVERNOR.

TRENTON, N. J., March 1—Woodrow Wilson ceased to be governor of New Jersey at noon today, when State Senator James Fielder was sworn in as executive. A reception will be held at Princeton tonight for the people to bid goodbye to her distinguished citizen.

COLONIAL THEATRE HAS BEEN CLOSED

CIRCUIT JUDGE IS TO BE ASKED TO APPOINT RECEIVER

HAS BEEN PAYING PROPOSITION,
BUT DISAGREEMENT OF PART-NERS IS SAID TO HAVE CAUSED BREAK.

The Colonial theater, which was opened in the early season on Magnolia avenue by W. H. Wright and Everett Green, has been closed. A petition will be filed in circuit court
next Tuesday demanding an accounting and dissolution of the partnership and praying for the appointment of a receiver for the business.

The business is said to have been a paying proposition but a disagreement between the partners is alleged to be the cause of the contemplated court proceedings.

Notwithstanding the fact that the weather was unusually warm for the time of year, the card party at the Elks' home was well attended yesterday afternoon and a very pleasant time was enjoyed by the ladies.

VICTIMS OF FIRE FROZEN IN DEBRIS

RESCUERS ARE WORKING IN RELAYS TO RECOVER BODIES

DEWEY HOTEL REGISTER SAID
TO CONTAIN 133 NAMES AND 100 ARE STILL UNACCOUNTED FOR.

OMAHA, Neb., March 1—Frozen in the center of a block of ice weighing thousands of tons, 20 to 50
bodies of victims of the Dewey hotel fire are being sought by the rescuers, who are working in relays
with axes and picks, hacking at the frozen debris. The mass is almost as solid as a block of cement.

It develops today that the register, which was at first reported lost, was saved, but has again disappeared. The book is said to contain the names of 133 guests the night before the fire. There are still 100 persons unaccounted for.

UNITED STATES AGAIN WARNS
MEXICO KILLING OF POLITICAL
OPPONENTS MUST BE STOPPED
AT ONCE.

MEXICO CITY, March 1 — The Liberal Democratic club this afternoon endorsed Felix Diaz for president and Senor DeLabarra for vice president of the republic. This endorsement is considered equivalent to their election.

Mexico Warned Again—MEXICO CITY, March 1 — Another warning has been served on Mexico by the United States that wholesale execution of anti-government leaders will not be tolerated.
While the note is friendly in tone
and disclaims any wish or intention to intervene, the state department has made it plain that the laws of humanity must be obeyed.

The note has been received in a friendly spirit by the Mexican government, which is formulating a reply disclaiming any barbarous intentions.

It now seems settled that Porfirio Diaz will return to Mexico. The government is planning the purchase of an "official palace" for him in the capital.

The rebellious governor of Aguas
Calientes surrendered to the federals
yesterday.

A revised canvass shows at least 4,000 persons were killed in the ten days fighting in the capital, and the figures may show 500 more than this number. The White Cross charges that the Madero forces were fired on this morning.

Fletcher Issues Denial—
WASHINGTON, March 1—Admiral
Fletcher, in a wireless from Vera Cruz, officially denies the report
that shots from United States warships in target practice killed one Mexican and wounded three others.
Orders have been sent to cease target practice until further orders.

U. S. Troops Disorderly—
GALVESTON, March 1—The 104th
artillery, of the Fourth brigade arrived in Texas City last night and started disturbances there. The soldiers are alleged to have tried to embrace women hotel keepers,
smashed plate glass windows and fired shots into the air. It is said they also shot up a number of resorts and broke into a number of saloons, helping themselves to liquor. Investigations are going on today.

SUIT TO DISSOLVE CORN PRODUCTS TRUST FILED.

WASHINGTON, March 1 — A suit
to dissolve the Corn Products trust was filed in the district court of southern New York today by Federal District Attorney Wise. The charge is made it is a monopoly in restraint of trade.

J. J. and J. C. Cone went up to Jacksonville yesterday afternoon, called to that city by the critical illness of their father, J. R. Cone. Their sister, Mrs. J. A. Hutchinson, of this city, who has been in Jacksonville for some time, telegraphed them to come at once.

Work of Real Forester.

The modern forester undertakes to make orchards profitable. There are orchardists, to be sure, who know very well how to care for their trees and who do care for them; but there are also orchards that are neglected or handled unskillfully. The forester will take a run-down orchard and by intelligent, scientific treatment of the trees, with systematic care, make it produce big and handsome apples in abundance.

Use for Coal Dust.

Coal dust, found in every bin, is usually wasted. Have it brought in a scuttle and add sufficient water to make it moist. Bank it upon the fire and you will have no fault to find with the result for hours.

Otherwise About the Same.

The difference between the man who rocks the boat and the man who drags the gun through the fence is that it is not necessary to drag for the body of the latter.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Use of the Horse.

Owing to the advancement of science it would be possible to get along without horses now, if it were not for the necessity of having a few of them at the annual horse shows.

Food for the World.

It is said that the nut trees of the world could furnish nourishment for the entire population of the globe. Brazil nuts grow in such profusion that great quantities are wasted every year.

Soothing Occupation.

"Who's that man who just kicked the chair over and threw a pack of cards into the fireplace?" Inquired one waiter. "Oh," replied the other, "he's the gentleman who tries to rest his nerves by playing solitaire."

One Instance in His Mind.

She—And you say that you have always avoided blaming me. I'd like to have you mention one instance. He—With pleasure. Remember, right after we were married, I ate a pie you baked, and when the doctor came I told him it was clams.

A MAN YOU KNOW.

Architecturally Speaking.

"I am the architect of my own fortune," said Mr. Dustin Stax. "Well," replied Mr. Holden Howes, "by being your own architect you're liable to get some curious effects, but you do save a lot of money on plans and specifications."

Lost for Good.

Redd—"Did you hear about my neighbor losing control of his motor car?" Greene—"No, I didn't." Redd—"Well, he did. The sheriff's got it now!"

Good Word for Snobs.

A snob is entitled to some credit for leaving you alone, which is more than the bores do.—Atchison Globe.

Incompatibility.

"My husband and I are very incompatible." "On what subject do you disagree?" "Well, he doesn't believe in debt."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Showy Footwear in Russia.

All Russians have a weakness for handsome footwear, and the result is that there are more showy boots worn in the czar's empire than anywhere else on earth. This preference extends to the women as well as the men.

In the Same Order.

A silversmith has a place next door to a restaurant. The former having put up a placard: "Jewelry of all kinds plated," the restaurant keeper followed with this: "Oysters and little neck clams plated."—Boston Transcript.

Easy to Tame Men.

Land, but men is easy tamed, so be the tamer is somebody they ain't used to and is gifted with a good dress and a kind of scalloped air.—From "Mothers to Men," by Zona Gale.

Her Motive.

Pretty well all the big things women do are done for men, I believe. Foolish it may be, but I suppose it's human nature. We are made so, and must put up with it.—Robert Hichens.

Economies.

It has been found that the things that expand on solidifying, as water, freeze at a lower temperature when the pressure is increased, while the others freeze at a higher. When a substance that expands freezes under higher pressure than usual it has to exert more force to shove the pressure away, and consequently has to use up more of its heat energy, thus losing more heat and consequently becoming colder.

Crowded Manhattan.

In one small portion of Manhattan, N. Y., is a population greater than that of Arizona, or of Delaware, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, North Dakota, Oregon, New Hampshire, New Mexico, Rhode Island, Utah, Vermont or Wyoming.

Brazilians Eager for News.

Travelers in Brazil remark that not only in Rio de Janeiro, but in the larger cities throughout the republic, the public awaits the daily news budget with an eagerness no less pronounced than is the case in the United States and on the continent of Europe.

The finest resort hotel in the world is being built at Sunset Mountain Asheville, N. C.

Absolutely Fireproof Will open July 1st
Wm. S. KENNEY, manager

MR. E. W. GROVE, of St. Louis, Mo., is building the finest resort hotel in the world, to be opened July 1st, 1913. It will be absolutely fireproof, and is being built of the great boulders of Sunset Mountain, whose foot it sits. It is being built by hand in the old-fashioned way. Full of rest and comfort and wholesomeness.

Q The front lawn is the hundred-acre eighteen-hole golf links of the Asheville Country Club, and with it sixty acres of our own lawn.

Q The purest water obtainable anywhere, piped seventeen miles, from the slopes of Mount Mitchell, over 6000 feet altitude. Biltmore milk and cream exclusively, supplied from 200 registered Jerseys on the estate of Mr. Geo. W. Vanderbilt. It is doubtful if this famous dairy is equaled in the world.

Q Four hundred one-piece rugs are being made at Aubusson, France. Seven hundred pieces of the furniture are being made by hand by the Roycrofters. The silver will be hand-hammered.

Q The plumbing material will be the finest that has ever been placed in any hotel in the world. The soil pipe has been hydraulically tested and then galvanized. The hot water pipe, 18,000 lbs. in weight, will be solid brass. The steam pipes are Byers' genuine lap-welded wrought iron tested hydraulically to 1000 lbs. The bathtubs and fixtures all solid porcelain. No pipes visible anywhere. No radiators to be seen—all placed in recesses under windows. No electric bulbs to be seen.

Q The "Big Room," or what some call the lobby, is 80 feet by 120, and the rugs in this one room will be worth $5000.00. The two great fireplaces in it will burn twelve-foot logs.

Q For the golfers we are building lockers and shower bath rooms with a forty-foot swimming pool that will not be excelled by the finest clubs in existence, and the players will be less than 100 yards distant when they are on the links.

Q Mr. Wm. S. Kenney, of Bretton Woods, N. H., who has shown in his management of The Mount Washington hotel and Hotel Clarendon, that he is the peer of hotel keepers, will manage the Inn.

Q We own eight hundred acres around the Inn (consumptives not taken).

Q Especially available for northern guests in the Spring, Fall and Winter, going or returning from farther southern resorts, or for an all Winter resort.

Q The Inn is located on the side of Sunset Mountain, about a mile from the top, and is not only cool enough in the Summer to make a blanket necessary at night, but is protected and mild enough in the Winter to make life enjoyable without enervation.

JUST GOSSIP

BY THE GOSSIPER.

The practice of riding bicycles on the platform at the railroad depot should be stopped. It is useless, senseless and dangerous to life and limb. Somebody should have authority to stop this nuisance.

Sufficient evidence that Daytona needs a new postoffice building will be furnished any person who will station himself in or near the building now used for postoffice purposes for any length of time from a few minutes to a couple of hours any afternoon after the local train comes in from the north.

Mayor Henry Titus has made another good move in instructing the city police officers to strictly enforce the anti-spitting ordinance and ample warning has been given by the posting of signs in conspicuous places about the city. Unless more care is exercised by thoughtless persons, some of them are likely to learn that it costs money to expectorate in this city.

Along with the numerous complaints made about the unsanitary conditions existing in and around the Florida East Coast railroad depot here, particularly the toilets, comes the frequent question as to who is responsible for such conditions. Whose duty is it to see that the sanitary laws and regulations are complied with? Is the local agent supposed to have charge of the railroad property in this city, or is it the duty of the city to compel the agent to see that conditions are kept at least half decent? Upon whom ever this duty falls the public is entitled to some consideration in the matter.

Right here it might be mentioned that the public watering troughs on Beach street were not placed there to be used as bathing pools for pet dogs, and winter visitors who desire to give their lap poodles and mongrel pups a chance to swim can find plenty of water in the Atlantic ocean the Halifax river, canals and ponds. Horses don't care to drink the water in the troughs after several dogs have soaked their dirty hides and hair in the liquid and the troughs were placed there for the horses.

The "unnecessary" whistling of engines pulling Florida East Coast trains through Daytona continues unabated. The officials of the road have warned their engineers to "cut it out" and have placed the matter of stopping it up to the city officials. Nobody denies that there are a number of dangerous railroad crossings in this city and that the state law requires engineers to sound warnings before passing over these crossings, but that doesn't give the engineers license to open the whistle valves as soon as they come within the city limits and practically keep them open until their trains cross the city line on the other side.

The question of how to establish and maintain an adequate sewer system has come to be one of the greatest importance to the citizens of Daytona, and the sooner the question is squarely met and the problem clearly solved the better it will be for the city. The question has been discussed and rediscussed for a number of years, but the talk has not brought the desired results, and the fact that Daytona is without a good system of sewers is one of the biggest handicaps the prettiest winter resort in the world labors under in offering a desirable place to purchase property and locate. This is an improvement which must come and the longer the delay the larger will be the expense. The time to act is now and the action should be so decisive it will insure Daytona a sewer system which will be adequate to take care of the needs of this city for many years to come.

One of the principal reasons for the poor passenger service furnished patrons of the road by the Florida East Coast railroad at this time seems to be a lack of equipment and lack of preparation to handle the heavy business, which there is no reason to believe was not unexpected by the officials. The same congestion comes every year at this season, and every year the officials offer the same excuse, that the heavy business was not expected. It is said that one morning this week a northbound train carried 800 passengers crowded and packed into every nook and corner of the coaches and that an effort was being made to pull this load with one broken-down, wheezing old locomotive, which lost its breath every time the train went around a curve. The train was crawling along many hours behind time when it arrived here and stopped to rest, and it lost still more time on the way to Jacksonville. Almost cruelty to animals, and certainly cruelty to the patrons.

Sentiment against the tipping evil is growing in all parts of the country. During this week the governor of Arkansas signed the bill passed by the state legislature prohibiting employees of hotels, Pullman cars and restaurants soliciting or receiving tips, and penalizing employers for violations of the act. During the week also a bill was introduced in the Pennsylvania legislature making it a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of from $10 to $25 for any person to give, solicit or receive a tip, the measure calling the practice "iniquitous, intolerable, un-American, unfair and unjust." Other states will follow the anti-tipping legislation, even unto Florida, which for so many "tourist" years has been disgraced by the extortions practiced upon the winter visitors by the tip collectors. When this state can advertise that a stranger may travel throughout its extent without being held up for a single tip, it will have as great a drawing card could possibly be devised.

A citizen of Indiana recently made a tour of Florida and went back to his home people and reported that Florida was a great country and the climate was all that could be hoped for, but that the people lived in constant fear of another freeze, which, he said, would practically bankrupt the state as it did 17 years ago. If the gentleman had been a close observer, and a careful student of conditions in Florida then and now, he would have reported differently. To begin with, at the time of the great freeze of 17 years ago, oranges were the staple crop. Vegetables were only grown for home use and many varieties were not grown at all. The orange was the whole thing, and the freeze put many people out of business. It was one of the greatest calamities that ever befell any state, and the people recovered from that awful loss without a dollar of outside help. Their necessities drove them to growing vegetables until now it is one of the foremost states in the union in garden productions. In fact, if a freeze were to kill all vegetation to the ground in 60 days Florida would be shipping vegetables to the north. A freeze of the orange crop would mean no more to the state of Florida than the loss of the corn crop to Indiana. Furthermore, Florida does not live in dread of another freeze, for the reason that three-fourths of the oranges are now produced south of where the oranges were destroyed 17 years ago. Florida is richer in resources than any other locality in the United States; a greater variety of crops are produced and the season for producing is perpetual. Statistics from the agricultural department at Washington show that in value per acre in production Florida leads all other states in the Union, and Kansas leads all states north of the Ohio river. It is a strange coincidence that these two states that passed through the greatest tribulations that ever put any people to the test, today stand credited as the leading producing states in all this rich producing land of ours. Florida values are based on so much that are substantial that a decline would not be rapid or serious did another freeze reach down and touch this sun-kissed land. Our Hoosier friend, like many others, will in years to come visit Florida again and while looking admiringly upon the wonderful progress that has been made in all lines will say: "Had I invested when I was here before, the rise in values would have made me a neat fortune." This is the history of others, and history repeats itself.

Fire in Bank of England.

The first fire within memory occurred at the Bank of England, London, a few days ago. The fire broke out in the southeastern portion of the building. The flooring and joisting were considerably damaged. The outbreak was discovered by the Bank of England authorities, and subdued by their own appliances in 30 minutes. A lieutenant and a dozen men of the Irish Guards on duty at the bank, with fixed bayonets, assisted the police in keeping the crowd back from the building.

Uncomfortable C.

Some years ago, says Brander Matthews in the Century Magazine, a friend of Oliver Herford was going to Europe on the Celtic, and the evening before his departure Mr. Herford called him up on the telephone to say good-by. He asked what ship his friend was going on, and some imp of the perverse prompted the friend to answer that he was sailing on the Celtic. Mr. Herford promptly responded, "Don't say that, or you will have a hard C all the way over!"

Fitting for Higher Things.

We may call the higher kingdom a spiritual kingdom or not, as we choose; but it is at least not "meat and drink." Only as a man realizes something of it can he hope to understand even himself, or his true relation to the life that now is. And it is only through a proper understanding of his relation to the present life that a man can fit himself for participation in the life of the spirit.—Exchange.

His Mother's Crime.

A guild of godparents to save children from incongruous names is being suggested. The late Canon Bardsley, author of a book on English names, told the story of what was probably the most idiotic name ever bestowed upon an unfortunate infant. A woman had her son baptized What. For no other reason than to cause amusement in future years, when, being asked his name, he should reply "What."—London Chronicle.

Puzzled Childish Mind.

Ward is aged 6. He stood close by his mother as she looked over last summer's wearing apparel. Finally she turned to him, and holding up a pair of his old pants, said: "Well, I declare, these pants are too small for you." The child looked at them thoughtfully for awhile, then asked, "Mother, what makes pants grow small?"

Bachelors and Insanity.

More bachelors than married men go insane, according to a report submitted to the secretary of the interior. Many married men have their thinking done for them, and consequently, do not have so great a strain on their think factory.—Nashville Tennessean.

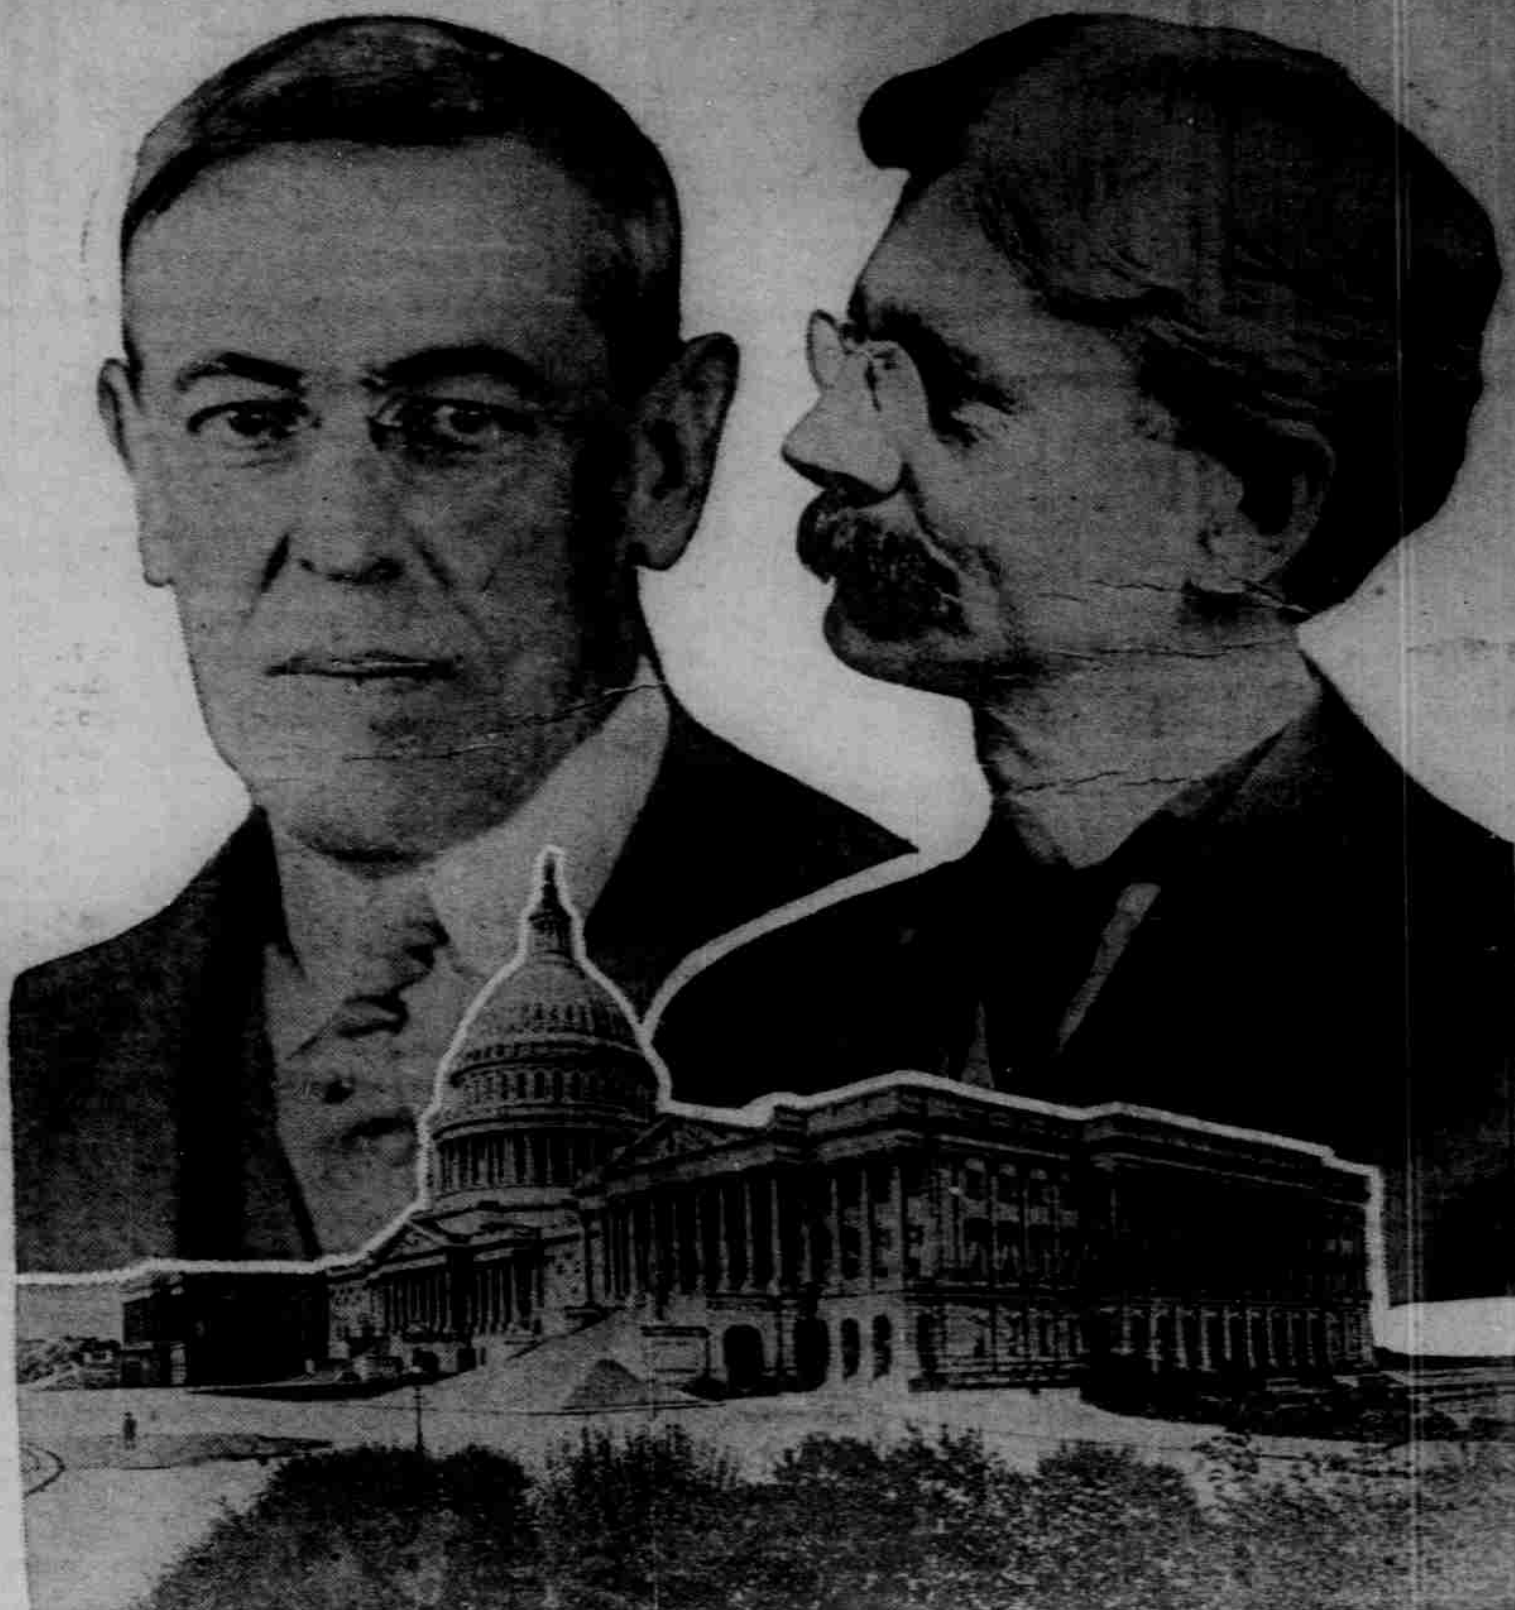

Always an Easy Way.

Let the poets who are unable to win notoriety remember that there is always a quick and easy way. All one has to do is enlist in the army and then dash off a bit of doggerel containing an insult to the German emperor.

The Neighbor Within.

Why should we ever go abroad, even across the way, to ask a neighbor's advice? There is a nearer neighbor within, who is incessantly telling us how we should behave. But we wait for the neighbor without to tell us of some false, easier way.—Thoreau.

CHIEF JUSTICE WHITE

dollars, and the hot polio who catch colds.

Nevertheless it is a great day. The bands play "Hail to the Chief," the militia of the various states proudly pound the pavements, the governors and their staffs come forth to dazzle the eye; the political clubs keep time to a secret refrain in the heart of each member that sounds suspiciously like "want a job, want a job;" the city is brave with flags and bunting; the president elect struggles to his feet and struggles to keep his feet as he bows to the plaudits of the multitude while his carriage passes by. He delivers an inaugural address that is already in type in nearly all the newspaper offices in the country, he reviews miles of parade and shakes thousands of hands, the cannons boom the salute, and all goes merry as a marriage bell. This is especially true of the coin that tinkles into the tills of the various hotels, stores, thirst parlors and the like. For real merriment that sound like the average marriage bell sounding like a dirge.

Speaking of the Weather.

Our inaugural ceremonies may be likened to the tree of liberty bursting into flower. Some dowerly—what! The only trouble is that the blossom is usually covered by the snow which our optimistic and promising weather department hands out each inauguration day. Professor Willis L. Moore promises assorted sunshine and balmy skies and calls on all the universe and the signal service to witness his good intentions. This prophecy having been duly made, telegraphed to the ends of the land and published in the papers, the weather proceeds to perform, incidentally making an assorted variety of monkeys out of the said Willis L. Moore.

On the morning of inauguration day it snows. This is followed by hail, sleet, rain, wind, slush, microbes, influenza, grip, coryza, cold feet, blue lips, red noses, profanity, inebriety, doctors' bills, crape, undertakers and a frenzied agitation to change the inauguration date which comes to nothing.

It is said by some of Washington's oldest inhabitants that there have been nice inauguration days. There is even one myth to the effect that there was a mild and sunny 4th of March. Possibly that was at one of the inaugurations of Grover Cleveland. You can't prove it by me. So far as my knowledge and belief go, inauguration day weather in Washington usually is bad.

There have been various measures introduced in congress to change inauguration day to the end of April. They have ranged all the way from simple bills and resolutions to constitutional amendments. Whatever their form, they have all traveled through the valley of the shadow of the pigeonhole. Everybody admits that the chance should be made, but that does not help the efforts to change it. People who participate in inaugural parades or look on die and are buried in consequence, but the deadly date goes on. President Elect Wilson proposed that he be sworn in on March 4, but that the public celebration be left till later. Everybody said it was a fine proposal and then proceeded deliberately to prepare for the public ceremony on March 4. Can you beat it?

Custom is mighty and shall prevail. President Elect Wilson also suggested that he wanted a simple inaugural, without so much fuss and feathers and so many troops. Thereupon the committees in Washington got together, adopted a solemn resolution approving the idea of a simple inaugural, made various speeches telling why simplicity should prevail and then proceeded to follow precedent and to arrange the same kind of inaugural that had been held from time immemorial.

The head of the committee in charge of the inauguration is William Corcoran East of the District of Columbia and state of Virginia. Eldridge E. Jordan, a Washington bank president, is vice chairman, and Major General Leonard Wood, now the head of the army, is grand marshal. There are various subcommittees containing the names of nearly every man socially prominent in Washington. If these committees alone were to parade they would require quite some time to pass a given point. There would be the honorable committee on the comfort of visitors, the honorable committee on legislation, the honorable committee on decorations, the honorable committee on this and the honorable committee on that. All of which teaches us that the inauguration of a president of the United States is a sizable function. A quarter of a million visitors are expected in the capital city that week. Nor will they all be looking for office. It is expected that at least the bands and the militia will have no hankering to enter the public service.

The Faithful Will Be There.

It will be a day of glory for the Democrats. Not for twenty years have they had an opportunity to participate in a like festival of joy. During four successive campaigns they have fought, bled and died for their country, only to have the victorious Republicans play the star parts in the inauguration parades. Will our Democratic friends permit this proud opportunity to slip now that it has come their way? Not a slip. As the Kentucky colonel remarked to the Georgia judge: "It is a long time between Democratic inaugurations. Let us do our glad habitations and go thereto."

All the faithful will be there, either in body or spirit. Not only so, but the good will of the whole people, regardless of party, will attend the event. No matter who elected him, the chief figure in the affair is to be president of all of us. He is our foremost representative and mouthpiece during four years. We may not agree with all his views, but we are for him nevertheless. He may want the tariff scrambled, while we like it hard boiled, but these things shall not mar our good feeling. If we do not approve his brand of government we will have a chance to whack it in four years. In the meantime let us inaugurate him in the good old way—with bare of hands and much shouting.

There will be no inaugural ball, much to the disgust of various people who wanted to dance the turkey trot, the bunny hug and other ragtime glides and wiggles; also to the dealers in white dress gowns and those who expected to sell tickets, but much to the satisfaction of the pension office. Uncle Sam and the people generally.

The proposed reception at the capitol building was also called off, since it would have entailed expense and would have kept the new president shaking hands most of the night. In place of these affairs there will be various private functions, one at the New Willard promising to be the most elaborate. If people want to dance they will have the opportunity, provided they can get an invitation.

Plenty of Red Fire.

If they do not desire to dance they can repair to the ellipse south of the White House and watch the fireworks. These will break all records. They will open by firing the national salute of 101 guns. Pictures of Wilson and Marshall and an immense American flag will be wrought in fire. There will be thousands of colored lights, batteries, candles and bombs, 100 aeroplanes and balloons and hundreds of geysers, mines, flashes, turbidillions and aerolites. Red fire will be burned all along Pennsylvania avenue.

The inauguration itself will follow the due and ancient form. At about 10 o'clock the president elect will visit the White House, where he will be introduced to the committee of senators by the president. In another half hour the party will enter carriages and be driven to the capitol, Mr. Taft occupying the right hand seat in the front vehicle and Mr. Wilson sitting at his left. The president will repair to the room reserved for him in the capitol to sign bills, while the president elect goes to the vice president's room. In the senate chamber the sergeant-at-arms will push back the hands of the clock once or twice. Then the presidential party will enter; also the supreme court, diplomatic corps and other high dignitaries. The vice president will be sworn in, deliver a brief address and give the oath to the new senators. The procession will move to the temporary stand on the east portico, Chief Justice White will swear in the new president, the guns will boom the presidential salute, and the inaugural address will be delivered to as many of the throng as can hear. Then the procession will return to the White House, President Wilson now upon the right hand and ex-President Taft on the left. The long parade will be reviewed from the White House stand, the multitudes will be received, and a new administration will have begun.

All this being attended to in due and ancient form, there is but one question remaining: How would you like to be Woodrow Wilson?

A Joke an English Lord Played on an American Woman.

Lord Rossmore once startled an American lady, a Mrs. Ronalds, whom he encountered at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Candy, in the aristocratic Park lane of London. He relates the incident in "Things I Can Tell."

She knew my sister, who called her Fanny, and as I thought Fanny was a very pretty name I said to her:

"I think I'll call you Fanny too."

Mrs. Ronalds hadn't the least idea who I was, and she said, half laughingly:

"Well, I declare; I never saw such a person!"

Just then I caught sight of the reflection in a mirror of my other sister, Mrs. Stirling, who was about to enter the room.

"I'll do more than call you Fanny," I continued; "I'll kiss the next woman who comes in."

Mrs. Ronalds looked perfectly horrified.

"You won't!" she gasped.

"Won't I? Just see!"

With this I wheeled round, and, catching Nora in my arms, I gave her a kiss.

I believe Mrs. Ronalds must have thought that her hostess was entertaining a madman unwares, but when the relationship of Mrs. Stirling and myself was explained she enjoyed the joke as much as any one.

A NICE COOL BED.

The Surprise a Trio of Laplanders Sprung Upon Nansen.

Sir Henry Lucy tells in the Cornhill Magazine a good story that he had from Nansen, the explorer. It amusingly illustrates the hardy health of the Laplanders.

Part of Nansen's equipment for his trip across Greenland consisted of two sleeping bags made of undressed skins. On the first night of the journey Nansen and his two Norwegian companions got into one of the bags, pulled the mouth tight across their necks, and so slept in the snow with only their heads out.

Before retiring to rest Nansen saw the three Laplanders he had engaged for the expedition cozily tucked into the other sleeping bag. When he awoke in the morning, almost numb with cold, he observed that the bag in which he had tied up the Laplanders was empty and that they were nowhere in sight. He was afraid they had deserted him, and scrambling out of the bag, went in search of them. He found the three men fast asleep behind a hillock of snow that they had scraped together as a protection against the wind.

"Ah, master," they said when asked to explain this extraordinary conduct. "We couldn't sleep in that thing. It was too hot, so we got out and have had a comfortable night here."

Floating Farms of China.

Like the wood merchants of northern Russia, who carry their wood on great rafts to Nijni Novgorod, Kazan and Astrakhan, the farmers of the upper and central regions along the Yangtsekang construct rafts covering as much as two acres of surface, and on the rafts they establish farms, where produce grows. On these great floating farms are habitations for the men and stables for the animals, pigpens, feed barns and storehouses well stocked with provisions. The voyage to market is often 1,000 miles, and to employ their time on the slow journey the dwellers on the rafts make baskets and many objects of household use. Arrived at their destination, they sell their produce, take apart and sell the rafts and return to their homes by the ways used by ordinary travelers.—Harper's.

Attacks on Tea.

Cobbett is not alone among authors in his distaste for tea. Arthur Young soundly rates the agricultural laborers of his time for their indulgence in this luxury. "An object, seemingly, of little account," he writes, "but in reality of infinite importance, is the custom, coming in, of men making tea an article of their food, almost as much as women; laborers losing their time to come and go to the tea table—nay, farmers' servants even demanding tea for their breakfast with the maids! Which has actually been the case in East Kent. If the men come to lose as much of their time at tea as the women and injure their health by so bad a beverage, the poor in general will find themselves far more distressed than ever."—London Chronicle.

JUDGE FISH STRONG AFTER THE BLIND TIGER OPERATORS

HARRISON THOMPSON, A DAYTONA NEGRO, UP FOR FIFTH OFFENSE, GETS 15 MONTHS IN PENITENTIARY.

By vote of the people Volusia county is dry under the county option law and Judge Bert Fish of the criminal court is determined to stop the illegal sale of liquor in the county. Following out his course in this determination Judge Fish has sentenced Harrison Thompson, a Daytona negro, to 15 months in the state penitentiary for selling liquor. This is said to be the negro's fifth offense.

Judge Fish also fined John Feltz, white, of Ormond $750 on a charge of selling liquor, and Henry Hall, Lydia Morrison, Lewis Daniels and Robert Brown, all colored, $300 and costs each for first offense selling booze. A negro named Thomas was soaked $200 for the same offense.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Should Be Repeated—

Editor Daily News—I was one of 500 or 600 people who attended the entertainment given Friday evening by the pupils of Mrs. Bethune's school for colored pupils, and was so delightfully entertained that I move Mrs. Bethune be asked to repeat the entertainment in the near future. The enthusiastic applause of the large and intelligent audience was ample evidence that all enjoyed the entertainment very fully. Mrs. Bethune is doing a noble work in her efforts for the uplift of her race, and should have the approbation of all. Those who were present at the Friday evening entertainment will tell others about it, and if repeated I think there would be a large audience.

POUNDED GIRL WHILE TEACHING HER DANCING.

LONDON, March 1—How between 50 and 70 bruises were found on a child was told at West London when Lenora Canzi, a dancing mistress, was summoned for ill-treating Doris Cubbin, aged 10, who had been sent to the dancing mistress by her parents at Liverpool to learn dancing. The doctor, who examined the child said some of the bruises were caused by a cane and others by pinching. Doris said the Canzi woman used to hit her on the legs, arms and shoulders when teaching her.

INDECENT LANGUAGE BRINGS HEAVY FINE TO WHITE MAN

NEGRO COUPLE FOUND SLEEPING IN ROSE BUSHES AT MAGNOLIA CHARGED $5 FOR BERTH BY MAYOR.

On a charge of using indecent language, a man giving his name as Duncan, white, was fined $20 and costs by Mayor Titus in court this morning.

Sam Jones and Flossie Ingraham, colored, were found sleeping in the rose bushes in front of the Magnolia hotel on North Ridgewood avenue this morning and the mayor charged each $5 for the use of the charged each $5 for the use of the bushes as a berth. It is also charged they had in their possession a bicycle, which another man claims, and they were arrested immediately after being fined by the mayor, to answer to the charge of larceny before Justice Zuber.

H. F. Thompson and A. B. Moore, both white, paid fines of $2 for speeding their motorcycles last night.

NO SMOKING IN VATICAN ORDERS FROM THE POPE.

ROME, March 1—Pope Pius X has forbidden smoking in the vatican, and the guards, chamberlains and attendants are disconsolate. Not even in the privacy of their own chambers are they permitted to puff their cigarettes or pipes. The pope, in consequence of a severe cold, has himself abandoned smoking and now contents himself with snuff. American tobacco factories formerly sent the pope annual presents of tobacco. He has now requested them to stop sending cigars and pipe tobacco, but to send snuff instead.

MAN 75 YEARS OF AGE MARRIES WOMAN OF 70.

LONDON, March 1—A wedding in which the bride was aged 70 and the groom aged 75, was solemnized quietly at Wolborough church, Newton Abbot. The bridegroom was a naval pensioner, James Callard, and the bride was Mrs. Drew. They had known each other in youth and intended marriage then, but circumstances parted them. At length, after both had been married twice and had children, they met again and determined to carry out the intention of their youth.

BEED, KNOX & BEED ORANGE GROVE—18 miles, via Ormond, is one of the largest groves in Volusia county and is well worth seeing; can be reached by motor over fairly good road; can also be reached by boat.

NUMBER NINE ORANGE GROVE—a large grove, passed on the way to the Beed, Knox & Beed grove, is 12 miles from Daytona.

NEW SMYRNA—16 miles from Daytona, over an excellent hard surface road; this drive is said to be the prettiest in the state. At New Smyrna are the ruins of an ancient fort and other historical spots, left by the colony of Andrew Turnbull.

OLD SPANISH MISSION—2 miles west of New Smyrna, reached by motor over good road. This mission is without authentic history but by many it is contended that this is the church built by Columbus on his second voyage to America. The altar is still extant, but at a later date the building was used as a sugar mill.

SPANISH SUGAR MILL—2 miles west of Port Orange and about 8 miles from Daytona; the machinery is still in a good state of preservation, although the mill is presumed to have been built and operated by the early Spanish settlers.

DELAND—25 miles from Daytona; the county seat of Volusia county and seat of John B. Stenson university; a very picturesque city; reached by motor over hard surfaced road.

GOVERNMENT LIGHTHOUSE—a Ponce Park, 12 miles from Daytona is reached by boat or by motor on the ocean beach.

MAMMOTH TREE—4 miles from Daytona; an abnormally large tree; reached by motor over hard surfaced road.

TOMOKA RIVER—The scenic stream of Florida; reached by excursion boats which leave Daytona daily and run to the navigable head of the stream, 26 miles from the city. Generally a number of alligators may be seen in their native haunts. This is a trip no tourist should miss.

DELEON SPRINGS, 28 miles from Daytona; mammoth spring that throws out thousands of gallons of water a minute; a delightful bathing pool, and picturesque scenery. Spring is situated in an old plantation. Reached by motor over good road; a nice trip for a picnic party.

OAK HILL—hamlet, 10 miles south of New Smyrna; several orange groves in the locality; reached by motor over hard surfaced road.

ORMOND—six miles from Daytona; here is located the Ormond hotel and a pretty town; nearby are the ruins of Spanish sugar mills.

TURTLE MOUND—26 miles south of Daytona; reached by boat; a mammoth mound of oyster shells supposed to have been left by a prehistoric race of people. Pottery and other antiquities have been discovered in excavating the shell.

PORT ORANGE—an attractive town 6 miles south of Daytona, can be reached by motor over hard surfaced road; or the trip one way may be made by the road and crossing the Halifax river on the Port Orange bridge, the return can be made on the ocean beach.

CLARENDON GOLF LINKS—2 miles from Daytona and immediately north of the Hotel Clarendon at Seabreeze; the links are now in good condition. The Hotel Clarendon bears the distinction of being the only fireproof winter tourist hotel in the world.

GENERALLY, you may motor in any direction from Daytona and find places and objects of interest which your driver can explain to you; there are many by-roads through the sylvan vegetation that a visitor will greatly enjoy.

STATE HAPPENINGS

The Lake City Index says: "At last a new government building is under way for Lake City." The building will certainly be a great addition to that pretty town.

Palatka is to have another big manufacturing enterprise, Paul & Weymer, manufacturers of slack turpentine barrels, having decided to locate there.

A carload of evaporators and other machinery for the glue factory, which is to be operated in Pensacola, has arrived. The plant is located across the bay. The buildings are now nearing completion and prospects are that the plant will be in full operation before the middle of the summer.

Palatka Chapter No. 34, F. & A. M., has decided to construct a five story office building on the lot facing the court house square, corner of Reid and Fourth streets. It will be a modern reinforced steel and concrete office building, to cost about $30,000, and be erected as soon as possible.

Mervin Cooley, a 16-year-old boy living three miles west of Melbourne is the proud possessor of a very much alive wild cat that he caught in a steel trap not far from his home a few days ago. Though the animal was caught by only one leg the boy managed to get it home without damage to himself.

Label suits each asking $25,000 as damages have been filed against Wood A. Mitchell by seven members of the Tampa real estate exchange and 25 more suits are soon to be filed. All the suits will allege that Mitchell referred to the real estate exchange as a trust and accused the plaintiffs of being connected with an unlawful organization, namely a trust.

Municipal Judge M. Henry Cohen, of Tampa, against whom disbarment proceedings have been begun, has filed in circuit court a complete answer to the charges filed in the motion of State Attorney H. S. Phillips, whose duty it was to proceed against him after complaints have been made by the court. In his answer Judge Cohen declares he has neither been guilty of dishonest conduct or any conduct not according to legal ethics.

A mistrial was the result of the case of James J. Abbott, who has been on trial in the United States court at Tampa on the charge of stealing a registered package of $10, 000 from the mails when he was mail clerk on the Tampa Northern railway. Judge Bearman gave notice that the man would be retried next month. Abbott was tried about a year ago and convicted. He secured a new trial on alleged new evidence. Two of the men who made affidavits in connection with the new evidence are under arrest for perjury and a third is being sought on the same charge.

The Pablo Pier and Improvement company is making plans to erect a big pier at Pablo which will reach 600 feet out into the surf. The ground or water-line floor will be used for dressing rooms for bathers. The first floor will include a recreation room for women and children, a dancing pavilion 100 feet square, and a fishing pier. The second floor will contain an up-to-date theatre and cafe. The general design of the structure will be of mission effect. The front will have large towers of steel and stucco construction. The construction of the pier will cost approximately $60,000.

Suit for divorce has been filed in circuit court at Tampa by Mrs. Lulu F. Pounds vs. her husband, William F. Pounds, who was convicted in criminal court on a charge of bigamy and who recently escaped from the authorities and left for points unknown. Mrs. Pounds, who was formerly Mrs. Stewart, and who had considerable means, married Pounds January 4, 1911, while he was clerking in a shoe store. Representing that he wanted to buy the store, Pounds secured considerable money from his bride, but after sojourning in Tampa about two weeks longer, he left suddenly, the reason being that Mrs. Pounds No. 1, nee Mattie Carson, made her appearance.

Deep hearts, sage minds, take life as God has made it: it is a long trial, an incomprehensible preparation for an unknown destiny. This destiny, the true one, begins for man with the first step inside the tomb. In the meanwhile, love and suffer, hope and contemplate. Woe, alas! to him who shall have loved only bodies, form, appearance! Death will deprive him of all. Try to love souls; you will find them again.—Victor Hugo.

Flat Chest. The occupation of a bookkeeper tends to bring the head and shoulders forward and cramp the chest. Try to sit more erect and learn to stand tall, and stretch the body to its full height. Many defects of the figure are due to bad postures, but by exercise many defects can be corrected.

No Previous Employment. "You say, Rastus, that you want work for your wife," said Gunbusta, eyeing the husky darky before him from head to foot. "Was she ever employed before?" "No, sir," replied the negro, nonchalantly, "dis am her first marriage."

A CURIOUS COINCIDENCE.

Dramatic Climax to a Trial in a French Court.

Coincidence—chance—plays a tremendous part in human history. Fate is another name for the same thing; so is luck. All these words are merely our puny euphemisms for X, the unknown quantity.

Not a day passes but the story of a remarkable coincidence is brought to public notice. A stranger incident never occurred, however, than this one, the account of which is in an old copy of the Chronique de Paris.

A youth of about nineteen was brought to trial for having broken the window of a baker's shop and stolen a two pound loaf.

The Judge—Why did you steal the loaf?

Prisoner—I was driven by hunger. "Why did you not buy it?" "Because I had no money."

"But you have a gold ring on your finger. Why didn't you sell it?" "I am a foundling. When I was taken from the bank of a ditch this ring was suspended from my neck by a silken cord, and I kept it in the hope of thereby discovering at least who were my parents. I cannot dispose of it."

The procurer du roi (king's attorney) made a violent speech against the prisoner, who was found guilty and sentenced to imprisonment for five years. Immediately upon this a woman more worn down by poverty than age came forward and made the following declaration:

"Gentlemen of the jury, twenty years ago a young woman was married to a young man of the same town, who afterward abandoned her. Poor and distressed, she was obliged to leave her child to the care of Providence. The child has since grown up, and the woman and the husband have grown older, the child in poverty, the woman in misery and her husband in prosperity. They are all three now in court. The child is the unfortunate prisoner whom you have just pronounced guilty, the mother is myself, and there sits the father," pointing to the king's attorney.

POETICAL FEATS.

Difficult Rimes Had No Terrors For Browning or Byron.

Poets may be baffled in their search for rimes, but it takes a great deal to baffle the doggerel rimester. Charles H. offered a reward for a rime to "porringer." The reward was claimed with the following marriage announcement:

The Duke of York a daughter had. He gave the Prince of Orange her. So now your majesty will see I've found a rime for porringer.

Browning's perpetrations in rime are probably unique in English poetry. Here is a couplet from "Sordello" which no minor poet would dare to print for fear of blasting his reputation:

Chirrup the contumacious grasshopper; Rustles the lizard and the cushats chirr.

In the same poem he rimes "sulked" with "mulct," "dag" with "quag," "abhors" with "valrassors." But he reached the climax surely in the couplet: You trample our beds of ranunculus. And you "Tommy-make-room-for-your-uncle" as.

The worthy and reverend author of the "Ingoldsby Legends" was fond of such rimes as:

A long yellow pinafore Hangs down each chin afore, or such riming gymnastics as: At Tappington, now, I could look in the Gazetteer.

But I'm out on a visit, and nobody has it here. Yet in these enormities he was only parodying Byron, who wrote: Ye lords of ladies intellectual Confess if they had not hespedked you all.

Some Satisfaction.

The Hon. Mrs. Robert Hamilton in her biography of her father, the late Lord Wolverhampton, says that in his home his orders were always stern and peremptory, but no one was more surprised when he was when they were obeyed.

One day he detected one of his daughters making a statement in which she rather exaggerated the facts. "You are one of the most inaccurate women that was ever created," he told her.

"Well," was the cheerful reply. "I am glad to be a masterpiece in some department of creation."

The Tower of Babel.

Do you realize that 4,000 years after the most wonderful of all towers was built by the ancients (according to the Book of Genesis about 2400 B. C.), its seven stages still rise high above the plains near the site of Babylon? Until a few years ago it had been known as the Mound of the Birs Nimrud, when Sir Henry Rawlinson discovered in one of the stages the inscribed cylinders which made the identification possible.

The Easier Way.

"I can cure that cold, old man." "What do you want me to take?" "About an hour's exercise in the open air every day." "I think I'll try Wombat's method. All he wants me to take is a few pills." —Pittsburgh Post.

Partly True Any Way.

Mrs. Blowitt—I see by this magazine that wearing hats makes one's hair gray. Mr. Blowitt—Well, the expensive ones that you have been wearing make my hair gray.

The Retort.

Wife—It makes me so unhappy to think that I have married a fool. Husband—Don't worry about that. Only a fool would have married you.—Der Guckasten.

Tail of the Fiery Dragon.

One of the peculiarities of the ancient writers on natural history subjects was the implicit faith which they placed in the genuineness of the various basilisk and dragon stories which were told to them. Brunetto, for an instance to the point, relates with all soberness that "the basilisk is the king of serpents. He wears a white crest upon his head, and such is the abundance of his venom that the air is poisoned wherever this dire reptile passes. Trees in which he makes his home exhale such a poisonous odor that birds in flying over are so overcome with it that they fall to the ground dead."

"The dragon," says the same author, "is the very largest of serpents and inhabits especially India and Ethiopia. When he flies out of the caverns in which he makes his home he furrows the air with such violence as to make it gleam with fire. His mouth is small, and he has not the power to inflict deadly wounds with his teeth. In his tail, however, his power lies, and with it he can instantly strangle the largest elephant."

Southpaw Smokers.

With his left hand he took pipe and tobacco from his pocket, and with his right hand he felt for a match. He had none. His fellow idler at the other end of the park bench gave him a match and then let his own cigar go out in his astonishment at seeing his left handed neighbor light his pipe with his right hand.

"That's funny," said he. "You are just about the most confirmed left hander I ever met, yet for that little trick you use your right hand as if born to it."

"All left handed people do," was the reply. "Just think over the list of your smoking acquaintances and see if you ever knew one who lit his pipe with his left hand. I'll bet you didn't. I never did, and I have numbered among my pipe loving friends several men whose right hand seemed nearly helpless for everything else."—New York Press.

Ye Bad Boyes In Church.

In Salem, in 1676, it was ordered by the town that "all ye boyes of ye towne are appointed to sitt upon three paire of stairs in ye meeting house, and William Lord is appointed to look after ye boyes upon ye pulpit stairs." In Stratford the rithing man was ordered to "watch over youths of disorderly carriage and see they behave themselves comelie and use such rap and blows as is in his discretion meet." In Durham any misbehaving boy was punished publicly after the service was over. We would nowadays scarcely seat twenty or thirty active boys together in church if we wished them to be models of attention and dignified behavior, but after the boys' seats were removed from the pulpit stairs they were all turned in together in a "boys' pew" in the gallery. There was a boys' pew in Windsor, Conn., as late as 1845, and pretty noisy it usually was.

An Incautious Critic.

Almost the last work that Sir Edwin Landseer was engaged on was a life sized picture of Neil Gwyn passing through an archway on a white palfrey. This picture, in which the horse alone was finished, was bought by one of the Rothschild family and given to Sir John Millais to complete. One morning a celebrated art critic called and was much impressed with his work. "Ah, to be sure," he said, going up close and examining a deerhound, which almost breathed, in the foreground of the picture. "How easily one can recognize Landseer's dogs! Wonderful, isn't it?" "Yes, it is wonderful," remarked Sir John, lighting another pipe. "I finished painting that dog yesterday and have done the whole of it myself." That critic was sorry he spoke.

Daniel Was a Worker.

Truly there were giants in colonial days. One Daniel Leake of Salisbury, N. H., made during his lifetime and was paid for 1,000,000 shingles. During the years he was accomplishing this colossal work he cleared 300 acres of land, tapped for twenty years at least 600 maple trees, making sometimes 4,000 pounds of sugar a year. He could mow six acres a day, giving nine tons of hay. His strong, long arms cut a swath twelve feet wide. In his spare time he worked as a cooper, and he was a famous drum maker.

A Secret Defined.

A secret is a thing which you communicate to one whom you can trust. He in turn tells it to somebody that he can trust, and that somebody reveals it to another somebody whom he can trust. And so it goes the rounds, but it is still a secret, although everybody knows it.

Not to Blame.

Father (sternly)—Now, Sophia, something must be done to reduce your expenses. You are actually spending more than your allowance. Daughter—It isn't my fault, father. I've done my best to get you to increase it.—Brooklyn Life.

His Company.

Her Father—I judge a man, sir, by the company he keeps. The Sultor—Then I'm all right, for I've been keeping company with your daughter for over two years.

Good Intentions.

"He means well." "Maybe so, maybe so, but I fired him because he's too blamed willing to let it go at that."—Detroit Free Press.

A man should be upright, not be kept upright.—Marcus Aurelius.

HENRY LANE WILSON

Henry Lane Wilson, American ambassador to Mexico, has been doing splendid work in the protection of Americans and other foreigners during the fierce fighting in the City of Mexico.

Colds. Numbers of people are suffering just now from irritating colds in the head. A very simple home remedy which brings almost instant relief is to pour half a pint of boiling water on to a dram of pulverized camphor, and to inhale the vapor for about ten to fifteen minutes. The annoying fits of sneezing, running eyes and heavy feeling in the head will quickly yield to this remedy.

Luxury In Cigars.

The Rothschilds smoke the most costly cigars that are made—the Henry Clay Sobranos—which cost $1.50 each. These are wrapped in gold leaf and packed in little inlaid cedar wood cabinets.

Natural Law Applied. "Seedless lemons are developed by grafting." So are the kind sometimes handed to officeholders.—Cleveland Lader.

GOOD ROADS ARE EXTENDED IN FLORIDA

MOVEMENT FOR HIGHWAYS IS NOW COVERING THE STATE

COMPLETION OF THE INTERNA-TIONAL HIGHWAY FROM QUE-BEC TO MIAMI EXPECTED BY END OF SUMMER.

The completion of the Quebec-Miami international highway, from the great lakes to the southern part of Florida, is expected by the close of the summer of 1913.

Already that section of the road
from Rouse's Point, on the Canadian border to Washington, is ready to travel, save for a few miles in Maryland, and this bit of road will be completed during the coming spring.

From Washington south, there will be a new road through Virginia and the highway will pass over historic ground, crossing no less than 27
battlefields of the civil and revolutionary wars. The road is being built by county bonds and by popular subscription, the chamber of commerce
of Richmond having raised $75,000.

In a recent letter to Norman M.
Parrott, of Baltimore, the secretary of the Quebec - Miami International Highway association, Preston Belvin
of Richmond, writes:

"Here is some good news for you: $50,000 was voted last week in bonds for the Richmond-to-Washington highway from Spottsylvania court house south to Hanover line. This is the last link in the chain. The money is now all in sight, and we have been working absolutely on the highway route lying between Richmond and Washington since last summer and it will be completed
during the fall. It is only a question of time to do the work. That portion of the highway, 35 miles between Richmond and North Carolina, will be finished by June, and possibly earlier. I am looking forward with a great deal of pleasure to the time
when our friends in Richmond and Baltimore can exchange visits over the Quebec-Miami highway."

Fred B. Smith, Brighton, N. J., who has been one of the greatest boosters that good roads in Florida ever had, was an enthusiastic attendant
at the Eustis convention. In a series of special articles in the St. Petersburg Daily Times recently he has given an exhaustive survey of road

work in Florida for the past year.
He writes in part as follows:
"The good roads work is very active this year all over Florida, and a great many counties have arranged either for bonds or a special mill
tax, so that the roads may be continuous throughout the counties and connect with the adjacent counties,
in this way of completing the system of roads which was devised and adopted at the state good roads meeting held in Ocala last year.

"The highway from the north extending from Quebec to Miami, is now rapidly approaching completion,
and in the whole distance of 2,400
miles from the north to the south end of it there are only a few gaps
or 'missing links,' which would aggregate not over 300 miles. The Canadians have their 240 miles nearly finished to the United States border
and from there to Washington, D.
C., there is a continuous stone highway.

"Between Washington and Richmond, Va., a new road is being built,
and this 35 miles is the longest gap
on the whole route, but without doubt
it will be finished by next fall.

"From Richmond on down through the various states to the north border of Florida the road is about completed.

"The first, or most northerly county in Florida, Nassau, has been rather slow about completing a highway, and some provision will have to be made for this county.

"Duval county's highway is nearly completed, and will surely have it finished during the coming summer.

"Work is being pushed through St. Johns county, but there is a gap of about 16 miles as yet unfinished.

"Volusia county is at work from one end to the other and has but about 12 miles to finish of the north and south road leading down toward Miami.

"Brevard county has about the same amount to finish; St. Lucie
county about six miles to finish;
West Palm Beach county has the road all finished and is now widening and improving it.

"Dade county has her highway all done, and through these two counties
of Dade and West Palm Beach the drive is delightful as the roadways
are in splendid condition, many of them being with oiled surfaces. There is also some very fine roads in the neighborhood of Rockledge and all the way down from Daytona to Stuart the river scenery is very beautiful."

"The roads between Orlando and
matter of state direction of good roads building is a matter of great concern from an economic standpoint.
Regarding this and other road work
going on he says in part:

"The rest of the great road system through the state is now being worked on in the various counties.
The road is now good from Daytona to Kissimmee and from Tampa to Largo, and the section through Polk county, where they have just bonded for $40,000, will undoubtedly be finished before next fall.

"The roads between Orlando and Ocala are also excellent, and there is considerable of the long route between Plant City and Jacksonville
by way of Ocala, Gainesville, etc.,
which is very fine for touring, and it is hoped that this route will also be a continuous system by next winter.

"The great need of systematic work in Florida in building roads is very evident to all who have investigated the subject. About 32 of the 49 counties are now building roads
in the most promiscuous manner,
and while the various commissioners are doing the best they can, they need a head or central connection
to bring interests of the various counties together; and they also need in each county a practical road maker
who is an engineer and surveyor,
and who shall work with the five commissioners in each county as a general assistant, and who shall be under a state commissioner of roads.

Sounds Made by Fish.
The skate, when caught, grunts,
groans and gasps pretty much after
the manner of a human being in distress. Carp and gold fish frequently utter curious sounds, but hardly sounds in the meaning of the term
here used, inasmuch as their sounds
are produced by approaching the surface of the water and blowing out air
in bubbles until a rippling noise is heard.

Then She Pondered.
"If you were fair," his wife said,
"you would acknowledge that I have done much to make you what you are." "Oh, I acknowledge," he replied,
"that you deserve nearly all the credit for making me what I am. By the way, do you happen to realize that what I am is head over heels in debt?"
—Judge.

Discouraging Progress.
"You're not doing as well in your mathematics as you ought to be, Johnny," said Mrs. Lapsling; "at your age
your cousin Horace was half way
through differential calipers."

The Danger of Lying in Bed.

Lack of muscular exercise is the first result of lying in bed. As a result the appetite is weakened, the digestive action slows down and the muscles of the stomach and abdomen cease to act upon the intestinal mass. When the body is in a recumbent position the heart works with the least expenditure of effort and the least fatigue and the circulation and the functional activity are decreased. But unless the subject is exceptionally vigorous all the benefits are counterbalanced by dangers. In bed the subject is shut away from fresh air and sunlight. The result of that deprivation is a condition similar to anemia. But the supreme menace
to the weak or the aged confined to bed
is the clogging of the pulmonary circulation, an action which frequently results in passive congestion of both sides of the lungs. For this reason the simple fracture of a bone may be the cause of death, because when the patient lies in bed there is no movement of the muscles to act as an incentive to deep breathing.—Harper's.

The Aristocratic Montenegrin.
The Bulgarian may not have a liking
for domestic service, but he is a born agricultural laborer. According to a recent traveler, if you give him a bar-ren piece of land he will make it blossom
like the rose, while his Montenegrin brother will stand and look on.
On the other hand, the Montenegrin placed in a drawing room always behaves like a gentleman, while the Bulgarian in the same environment cannot help being a boor. "But then," says
the London Chronicle, "it is said the Montenegrins are the descendants of Serbian aristocrats who fled to the mountains to seek freedom. The explanation is thin, but pleasing. Of one claim to culture, however, Montenegro cannot be deprived—she established a printing press at Obod only twenty years after Carion began his labors,
and she printed beautifully. But the Turks made 'pi' of everything, and the press was not re-established till 1832."

The Drunkard's Cloak.
One of the quaint instruments of torture in England in olden time was a device known as the drunkard's cloak.
It was made of wood and in shape resembled a huge inverted flowerpot.
Through the small circular aperture in the top was thrust the neck of the imprisoned inebriate. The weight of this ancient counterpart of the straitjacket fell on the victim's shoulders and was sufficient to make every bone in his body ache. With his hands practically pinned to his sides and the garment reaching almost to the ground the only motion allowed him was a slow shuffle
of his weary feet as he dragged his way painfully along. One can well believe that any one who had been compelled to don the drunkard's cloak
would be very apt to come to the conclusion that a high old time was not worth having at the price.

Rivaroli's Wit.
Antoine Rivaroli, the French epigram-matist of the eighteenth century, was so brilliant that something good was expected of him every minute. Once when he had been invited to dinner, at which the hostess especially wished him to shine, he sat quite silent. The attitude of disappointed expectancy in the company nettled him, and at last Rivaroli made a stupid remark. Everybody uttered an exclamation.

"There," said Rivaroli, "I cannot say
a stupid thing without every one's crying, 'Thief!'"

At a dinner in the house of some Germans he made a joke. His hosts put their heads together inquiringly.
Rivaroli said to his neighbor, a French-
man:

"Look at the Germans pooling their wits to understand a joke."

Nests on the Water.
It is almost unthinkable that a bird
should build a nest on the water. Yet that is exactly what the grebes always
do. With reeds, grass and plant stems
the grebe makes a regular floating island, somewhat hollowed out on top,
usually near the open water of a marshy or reedy lake. We have several kinds of grebes, but their nests are much alike, sometimes moored to the reeds, but usually floating freely
on the water.—St. Nicholas.

Hyphenated Episode.
"What has become of your hyphenat-
ed friend?"
"My hyphenated friend?"
"Yes; your friend Mr. Wombat-Wombat."

"He is ill of beri-beri."
"Where?"
"In Walla-Walla."—Exchange.

Point In Verbalism.
Professor (to class in composition)—
Some one in the class recently referred to a woman as of "medium size."
Please avoid this expression in referring to a woman. It smacks too much of commercialism. Freshman—But,

Hitting Him With the Truth.
Mr. Boastful—I wonder how it would seem if I could have all the money I have given to charity piled on a plate
before me. Mrs. Boastful—I think you could still distinguish the plate.

Sets Logic at Defiance.
"There is no effect without a cause,"
quoted the wise guy.
"How about when a woman changes
her mind?" asked the simple mug.—

NUMBER OF YOUNG PEOPLE ENJOYED INFORMAL DANCE.

Mrs. J. H. Donnelly entertained a number of the young friends of her son, Alfred E. Donnelly, yesterday evening at her winter home, corner of Magnolia and Palmetto avenues, dancing constituting the main feature of the entertainment.

The large parlors of the residence and the veranda were used by the young people for dancing and the parlors and dining room were beautifully decorated with a profusion of orange blossoms and roses. The guests included several talented musicians and music for the dancers was furnished by them in turn, and all had a delightful time. Following the dancing delicious refreshments were served in the dining room. There were about 20 in attendance.

The residence presented a very attractive appearance with its brilliant lighting, flowers and music and the French windows opening upon the veranda being thrown open, quite a crowd of people collected on the pavements in front of the house to watch the dancing, which was concluded about midnight with the Virginia reel. The entertainment was an informal one, thoroughly enjoyed by the participants.

Navajo Women Own Property.

While the Navajo men and boys take care of the flocks and herds, the women own the property. It is the Navajo woman who has the final say as to the disposal of sheep and cattle. This is not the result of any recent movement in behalf of equal suffrage, but has obtained among the Navajos since time immemorial.

Lawyer's Raiment Too Gaudy.

Proceedings at the Durban, South Africa, circuit court were recently suspended for half an hour while the advocate-general went home to change his waistcoat, the judge having objected to the fancy pattern of the one he was wearing.

Ambiguous.

Mrs. Knagg—"You may not know it, but I had refused Billy Batch, who stood up with you when we were married." Mr. Knagg—"Well, the best man won."

Daily Reminder.

Know thyself! If you are mediocre take your medicine. In human affairs no legislation will ever make it possible for the tail to wag the dog.

Troubles May Be Avoided.

Many of the troubles of life are due to lack of discipline and effort.

Simple Request.

An Irish conductor on the Payne avenue line was trying to make room for more passengers in his car during the rush hours the other night. As reported by a more or less truthful witness, this is what he said: "Fill them in front please move up so that them behind c'n take th' places av them in front, an' lave room fr them that's neither in front nor behind!" —Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"Jay Walking."

"Jay walking" is a recognized form of walking, at any rate in the south, where a person who was addicted to it met his death, and the coroner's report used this phrase to describe what the man was doing. It appears that the "jay walker" is a walker who cuts across corners and goes across the street anywhere and at any angle, instead of making use of the crossing.

Always Pays to Be Pleasant.

The woman who has formed the habit of saying pleasant things and letting everything that is unpleasant pass without comment is in a position to pour oil on the troubled waters of both social and business life. She is the type that gets the most out of life because everyone instinctively turns the best side to her.

One Distinct Drawback.

Chinese history tells us that the Sung dynasty, 1000 A. D., brought the language to a point where it was "an effective instrument for expressing the national mind." Unfortunately, it loses its effect when only a very few people in a nation of 450,000,000 can understand what "the national mind" has to express.

Few Visit "Garden of Eden."

It is said that hardly more than a dozen white travelers in a year visit the Garden of Eden, which is situated in Turkish Arabia, and is too inaccessible to attract any but the most courageous tourists. But perhaps people stay away from fear of being disappointed when they should see it.

King of Beasts Easily Scared.

A curious story comes from Kamacha, South Africa. Some English ladies were picnicking in a glade near Hell's Gate, Kamacha, recently, when they were suddenly confronted by a lion. He was scared, presumably at the volume of steam from a tea-kettle, for he only roared and made off.

OIL MAGNATE WELL PLEASED WITH THIS WINTER RESORT

SPENDS SOME TIME FRIDAY

AFTERNOON VISITING WITH

EX-GOVERNOR WOODBURY, HIS

PERSONAL FRIEND.

John D. Rockefeller, Standard Oil magnate, who is spending the winter season at the Clarendon, says he likes Daytona as a winter resort place better than any place he has ever seen and he proposes, if possible, to arrange to come here for a few weeks every winter in future.

The present visit of Mr. Rockefeller is the first he has made to this prettiest resort in the world but he has spent other winters in other parts of the state. None of these, in the opinion of the oil magnate, compare with Daytona as a delightful place in which to spend the winter season.

This is the opinion of the wealthiest man in the world while making a friendly call at the Ridgewood hotel yesterday afternoon. Mr. Rockefeller is a personal friend of ex-Governor U. A. Woodbury of Vermont, father of Col. E. P. Woodbury, manager of the Ridgewood, and spent some time chatting with the former Vermont executive at the Ridgewood yesterday. The oil magnate looked over the big hotel and around the grounds and expressed himself much pleased with the hostelry and the location.

The longer the oil magnate remains in Daytona the better he likes the city and surroundings.

Look Upward.

By continually looking upward our minds will themselves grow upwards; and, as a man, by indulging in habits of scorn and contempt for others, is sure to descend to the level of what he despises, so the opposite habits of admiration and enthusiasm for excellence impart to ourselves a portion of the qualities we admire. Here, as in everything else, humility is the surest path to exaltation.—Phillips Brooks, D. D.

The president declares that independence granted prematurely means their "enslavement" and would indicate a selfish desire on the part of the United States to escape responsibility.

This morning there arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Van N. Lockwood, on Bay street, a little daughter to gladden the household. Both mother and baby are doing nicely and Mr. Lockwood is feeling the added importance which attaches to a man of family. Little Miss Lockwood is rich in the possession of ancestors, as she has living two great grandfathers, three great grandmothers and two grandmothers.

Slander.

Guest—"I have eaten many a better stew than this!" Landlord (enraged)—"Not in this house!"—Fliegende Blaetter.
